PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY SAMUEL SNOWDEN, ROYAL-STREET, ALEXANDRIA.

Vol. XIX.]

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 30, 1818.

[No. 5292.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cas-estimating desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obsteinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions—
To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back
Loss of appetite Indigestion

Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natura weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Scurvy and Fever Drops
For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the num-strong reason to believe that his intention to deceive.

IV. CANTO OF CHILDE HAROLD.
Of St. Peter's cathedral at Rome, Lord Byron speaks thus:

"But lo! the dome—the vast and wondrous dome,
To which Diana's marvel was a cell—
Christ's mighty shrine above his martyr's tomb!
I have beheld the Ephesian's miracle—
Its columns strew the wilderness, and dwell
The hyæna and the jackall in their shade;
I have beheld Sophia's bright roofs swell
Their glittering mass the sun, and have surveyed
Its sanctuary, the while the usurping moslem prey'd."

"But thou, of temples old, or altars new,
Standest alone—with nothing like thee—
Worshipped of God, the holy and the true.
Since Zion's desolation, when that he Forsook his former city, what could be
Of earthly structures, in his honor piled
Of a sublimer aspect? Majesty, Power, glory, strength and beauty, all are aided
In this eternal ark of worship undefiled."

"Enter: its grandeur overwhelms thee not;
And why? It is not lessened; but the mind
Expanded by the genius of the spot,
Has grown colossal, and can only find
A fit abode, wherein appear enshrined
Thy hopes of immortality; and thou Shalt one day, if found worthy, so defined,
See thy God face to face, as thou dost now
His holy of holies, nor be blasted by his brow."

"Thou movest, but increasing with the advance,
Like climbing some great Alp, which still doth rise,
Deceiv'd by its gigantic elegance;
Vastness which grows, but grows to harmonize.
All musical in its immensities;
Rich marbles—richer paintings—shrines
Where fame
The language of gold—and haughty dome,
Which rises
In air with earth's chief structures, though
Their frame Sits on the firm-set ground—and this the clouds must claim."

"Thou seest not all; but piecemeal thou must break,
To separate contemplation, the great whole;
And as the ocean many bays will make,
That ask the eye—so here condense thy soul
To more immediate objects, and control
Thy thoughts, until thy mind hath got by heart,
Its eloquent proportions, and unroll
In mighty gradations, part by part,
The glory which at once upon thee did not dart."

Not by its fault—but thine: our outward sense
Is but of gradual grasp—and as it is,
That what we have of feeling most intense,
Outstrips our faint expression: even so this Outshining and overwhelming edifice,
Fools our fond gaze, and greatest of the great,
Defines at first our nature's littleness,
Till growing with its growth, we thus dilate,
Our spirits to the size of that they contemplate."

"Then pause, and be enlightened; there is more
In such a survey, than the sating gaze
Of wonder pleased, or awe which would adore
The worship of the place, or the mere praise
Of art and its great masters, who could raise
What former time, nor skill, nor thought could plan;
The foundation of simplicity displays
Its depth, and thence may draw the mind of man,
Its golden sands, and learn what great conception can."

"Or turning to the vatican, go see Lacoon's torture dignifying pain—
A father's love and mortal's agony,
With an immortal's patience blending—vain
The struggle; vain against the coiling strain
And gripe, and deepening of the dragon's clasp,
The old man's clench: the long envenomed chain
Rivets the living links—the enormous asp
Enforces pang on pang, and stifles gasp on gasp."

"Or view the lord of the unerring bow,
The God of life and poetry and light—
The sun in human limbs arrayed, and brow
All radiant from his triumph in the fight;
The shaft hath just been shot—the arrow bright
With an immortal vengeance; in his eye
And nostril beautiful disdain, and might
And majesty, flash their full lightnings by,
Developing in that one glance the Deity."

"But in his delicate form, a dream of love,
Shaped by some solitary nymph, whose breast
Long'd for a deathless lover from above,
And maddened in that vision—are express'd
All that ideal beauty ever blessed
The mind with, in its most unearthly mood,
When each conception was a heavenly guest—
A ray of immortality—and stood,
Sole, like, around, until they gathered to a god."

FOR THE GAZETTE.
A Critical Essay on the Fourth Canto of Childe Harold's Pilgrimage.
(No. 1.)

To the bright chain of the renown of Italy, another link has been added by three visitors, who were well fitted to perceive and to celebrate her glories. Of these, two have already joined the worthies, over whose monument of fame they had planted a new laurel. The progress of the third—the minstrel pilgrim—is once more stayed, that he may commit to a lasting record the memory of his rambles. But the lustre of his scallop is dimmed by toil; care has furrowed his brow and relaxed his strength. His harp retains its melodious pathos; but the tones are melancholy, and its chords seldom vibrate to the notes of gladness or of heroism.

In considering the last performance of the great magician of modern song, the analyst will find it difficult to bring to the survey that dispassionate judgment without which praise is valueless and criticism unmeaning. But the sorrows and genius of an author, who is in every view the greatest phenomenon of our day, so forcibly claim the sympathies of the observer, that an examination, professedly intellectual, of his writings, should be offered with hesitancy and received with distrust. Of his talents, or of his rhythmical merit, there is now but one opinion. Triumphant over the "fatal facility of the octosyllabic verse," the cumbrous uniformity of the Spenserian stanza, and the monotonous coarseness of the heroic metre, he has, in the first, overborne rivalry, and, in the two last, thrown down a gauntlet which the bard of Fairies and the English Homer might be diffident to raise. The calamities and faults of his private character are, perhaps, imputable to pride, deceived confidence, and a sensibility torturing by its excess.

From this momentary but painful glance at the biography of suffering genius, let us now turn to view its last, but not least honorable exercise.

The present canto is preceded by an address to Mr. Hobhouse. In this the author has manifested his mastery over a prose style, not so laudable for correctness, as for harmony, vivacity and strength.

Childe Harold, after lately sojourning in regions where few classical objects gave relief to the sameness of his tour, at length reaches

"The fair clime, where every season smiles," which is at once the death-bed of glory, and the cradle of art. He is in Italy—Italy, the vestiges of whose vanished greatness curiosity will long linger to contemplate, and whose fame poetry and eloquence have exhausted their stores to augment. His narrative map of this interesting country is by no means geographical, and a future D'Anville would be perplexed in delineating a chart of it "ex mente auctoris," as was done in regard to Homerick Greece. The poet seems not so frequently to describe from present observation, nor to record the impressions it imparted to him, as in the two earlier cantos. Probably the seclusion which is known to have marked his residence at Venice, was used in embodying the recollections of his journey. It cannot then be expected that their coherence should be local. The imaginary traveller is introduced to the reader at Venice, where after adventuring to the illustrious era of her history, he indulges a train of reflections naturally excited by her present contrasted debasement. Of these, the following is, perhaps, equal to the rest:

"Before St. Mark still glow his steeds of brass,
Their gilded collars glittering in the sun;
But is not Doris's menace come to pass?
Are they not bridled? Venice, lost and won,
Her thirteen hundred years of freedom done,
Sinks, like a sea-weed, into whence she rose!
Better be whelm'd beneath the waves, and shun,
Even in destruction's depth, her foreign foes,
From whom submission wrings an infamous repose." Stanza 13.

He now proceeds to Friuli, of which the principal interest appears to be the surrounding scenery. Passing through Aquila, memorable for containing the tomb of Petrarca, and for suggesting to Lord Byron some beautiful stanzas, he is next seen at Ferrara. This city is yet dearer to memory than the former, as in one of its convents Ariosto lies buried, and in its hospital of St. Anne, Tasso was immured as a maniac. The cause of this useless paroxysm of tyranny, though often conjectured, was not ascertained till recent investigation found it in the pride of the family of Este. One of its daughters—surely gentler than her kindred, had inspired the poet of heroes with an attachment which his caution tasked itself to restrain, but which his sensibility fed with fire and strength. Sometimes tenderness overpowered self government, and in one instance, at a crowded gala, tradition has whispered that the hopeless lover clasped the proud beauty to his arms. This desperate exercise of desperate passion was visited by the reigning Duke with the indignation which envious power delights to exert on intellect. The successor of Homer—the rival of Virgil—was committed to a dungeon, and ignorance was taught to believe that insanity only could prompt his presumptuous act.

Unfortunate in love and immortal in fame, the bard of Jerusalem is now avenged on his princely oppressor. As the Titans are remembered only for their abortive rage against heaven, and Epistatrus for destroying a wonder of the world, so the recollection of Alfonso is produced only by his barbarous effort to ruin a majestic mind. The house of Este would now be forgotten, but for its unnatural union with Hanoverian dulness. Even the beautiful Leonora would be undistinguished amid the ignoble clay around her, if her charms were not perpetuated by their connexion with her scorned, but deathless victim. The cruelty of Alfonso is punished by Lord Byron in three vigorous stanzas, in which his genius evidently struggles with a metre never designed as the vehicle of rebuke. In a rather unsatisfactory note, the agency of Salvatori in calumniating Tasso is stated, but the English reader is furnished with no reply to the strictures passed by certain of his countrymen on that boast of Italy. Perhaps Addison's sciolous remark about "Tasso's tinzel" might be suffered to pursue its headlong progress to oblivion, without even momentary impediment, but surely an answer was due to the censures of Dryden and Pope.

As strange as it may appear, nevertheless it is a fact, that large quantities of wheat and flour have lately been shipped from this port to Baltimore for a market. A writer in the Federal Gazette, in speaking of this reversal of trade, says "Baltimore is now the highest market on the continent for flour. A considerable quantity of wheat is on its way here from New-York. Upwards of 5,000 bushels have arrived from the District of Maine, and 3,000 bushels are aloft at our wharves from New-York."

[New-York Evening Post, July 24.]

ANOTHER SWINISH ACCIDENT.

As a young gentleman was on his way home to dinner yesterday, a large sow at the corner of Broadway and Thomas street, unluckily ran her nose full tilt between his legs, took him fairly upon her back and really galloped off some yards, when giving a sudden grunt she pitched him sprawling on his back into the middle of the street, to the no small amusement of several bystanders. We are happy to learn he sustained no injury other than ruining a pair of small clothes. [Ibid.]

The practice of leaving horses and carriages in the streets without any one to take care of them, is often attended with serious accidents. No longer ago than yesterday afternoon, a very fine horse, harnessed to a chaise and unattended, took fright, run off and dashed the carriage into atoms. He was at length brought up by running full jump into a blacksmith's shop. [Ibid.]

COCKROACHES.

By placing a bowl of molasses and water in the places frequented by these troublesome insects, they will be effectually exterminated. The experiment has been tried by the writer of this, whose house was much infested by them, and in the course of a fortnight they have been nearly all destroyed by the above simple remedy.

The Theological Seminary at Princeton flourishes. During the last year fourteen students were licensed to preach—Twenty five were gratuitously supported. The donations for the purpose in the year amounted to more than 3,000 dollars. The sum of 2500 dollars has been voted, to establish the Whitehead Scholarship—and the Rev. Dr. Green, Mr. Zachariah Lewis, Rev. Messrs. Grant, Janeway, Chester, and Duffield, have bound themselves to pay 500 dollars each—on condition that four more join them—to provide a house for a professor of Didactic and Polemic Theology.—The Rev. Mr. McDowell has collected 10,000 dollars towards the support of this seminary; 1500 of which was collected in Dr. Kollock's church at Savannah. [Philadelphia paper.]

Quebec, July 14.

On Monday the 6th inst. about 5 o'clock in the morning, the inhabitants of the parish of St. Giles, the settlements of which extend two leagues and a half along the low grounds, on the banks of a river of the same name, falling into the Chaudiere, above the falls, perceived that the river was rising with extraordinary rapidity.—It soon overflowed its banks, and extended over the low grounds, in a wave of considerable height, moving faster than a man can walk. The cattle in the fields were either immediately swept away, or retiring to the eminences, soon surrounded and overlaid, were drowned. The inhabitants remained or took refuge in their houses, generally built on the highest grounds, in expectation that they would be safe; but these also were soon surrounded. As the water rose in the houses, sweeping away every thing around them, they ascended into their garrets. One whole family, the wife of Augustin Houle, and six children, were precipitated in the flood, along with their house, and drowned. Several other houses and barns were carried away, or damaged, but we have not heard of any other lives being lost. Many of the inhabitants have lost all their cattle, and a great portion of the live stock of the whole settlement is drowned. All the hay being generally along the river, almost all the grain is destroyed. Sand and heaps of drifted timber, now cover the fields, on which the unfortunate owner contended with pleasure, only the evening before, an abundant reward of his labor, or at least, a fair prospect of future subsistence for himself and family.

The river rose 7 feet in twelve minutes, and about 18 feet above its usual level in a few hours; from a stream of about 30 feet, it became a river of more than one mile in width; it tore up by the roots elm trees of three feet in diameter, and has made gullies throughout the fields to the depth of 8 feet. In many places its course is changed; the main bed of the river now runs where the house of one Antoine Couture stood the day before. It was five days before it retired within its bank.

There had been no rain of any consequence at St. Giles for more than a week before the above disaster. The cause of the sudden overflowing of the river, is supposed to be the heavy thunder showers of the preceding day, among the mountains on the south shore, towards the sources of the St. Giles. People who were working on Craig's road, six leagues up the waters of the St. Giles, and those that came in from Broughton, report that the rain fell in torrents in those parts on Sunday afternoon and during the night. In Broughton the course of a river was changed by its overflowing, the roads gullied, and bridges carried away. It is needless to mention that along the St. Giles, hardly any roads or bridges remain.

Among the late arrivals of troops, our attention has been particularly drawn to the 68th light infantry regiment; it being a remarkably fine body of young healthy looking men.

Yesterday morning at sun-rise, and for some hours after, the town was covered with a saffron coloured haze, to the great surprise of many, and the affright of some. It is not, however, the first time that we have seen the atmosphere so colored, particularly in eclipses of the sun. On the disappearance of the haze, the orb of day shone with his usual splendor; with which we have for some time past, been blessed in an extraordinary degree, and latterly with alternate fruitifying showers, as is evinced by the verdant aspect of the country, vegetation generally being in a very advanced and flourishing state. The heats have been uncommonly intense for so early a season as the end of June and the beginning of July.

From the Washington City Gazette.

The following is a copy of the plan formed by Joseph Bonaparte for exciting a revolution in South America. Napoleon Bonaparte's emissaries having failed to bring about a revolution in his favour, his brother Joseph took it in hand, principally with a view to prevent the allies from being furnished so largely with the "sinews of war," which tended to protract the contest in the Peninsula. No less than ninety millions of dollars are said to have been transmitted for this service in the course of the two years previous to 1810, by the royal inhabitants of the Spanish provinces. A copy of this document was found in the archives of the supreme junta at Carracacas, and may be considered as genuine. It will be seen that the plan of revolution was got up with as much ease as a pantomime; the wires were to be drawn with much dexterity, and, to ensure success every thing was arranged to flatter the prejudices of the people.

It has, however been otherwise ordained by Providence, and their independence is destined to be achieved by their own hands. No friendly ally seems willing to step in to their assistance; they are seconded only by the funds of individuals and their own determined bravery.

JOSEPH BONAPARTE'S PLAN FOR REVOLUTIONIZING SOUTH AMERICA.

From an outline of the Revolution in South America.
Instructions given by Joseph Napoleon, to the commissary or principal agent appointed by him at Baltimore, M. Desmolaire, and the others who furnished with his orders, have gone to Spanish America for the purpose of exciting a revolution there.

"The object which these agents are to aim at for the present, is only to declare to the Creoles of Spanish America, and to persuade them that his imperial and royal majesty has solely in view to give liberty to Spanish America whose inhabitants have been enslaved for so many years—and the only return expected for so great a boon, is the friendship of the natives, and commerce with the harbors of both Americas. That to render Spanish America free and independent of Europe, his majesty offers the necessary assistance of troops and war-like stores, he having agreed with the United States of North America, to accommodate him therewith. Every commissary or agent in chief, being acquainted with the district to which he is deputed, and also with the character of its inhabitants will have no difficulty in selecting proper persons to give them the needed instructions for persuading the people, and pointing out to them the advantage they will derive from throwing off the European yoke. He will make them observe that large sums will remain and circulate in the American provinces, by suspending the profuse remittances which are continually making to Spain—and that their commerce will be increased, and their ports be open to all foreign nations. He will dwell on the advantage to be derived from the freedom of agriculture, and the cultivation of those articles at present prohibited by the Spanish government—for instance, that of saffron, hemp, flax, olives, vines, &c.—the benefit that will accrue to them for the establishment of manufactures of every sort, the great satisfaction and advantage of abolishing the monopolies of tobacco, gunpowder, stamps, &c. To obtain these points with some ease, in consequence of the greater part of the people being uncivilized, the agents ought to be solicitous to render themselves acceptable to the governors, intendents, curates, and prelates. They will spare no expense, nor any other means of gaining their good will, especially that of the ecclesiastics, on whom they are to prevail, that they should urge and persuade penitents, when they come to confess, that they stand in need of an independent government, that they must not lose so favorable an opportunity as that which now presents itself, and which the emperor Napoleon affords them, who they are to make the people believe, is sent by God to shake the pride and tyranny of monarchs—and that it is a mortal sin, admitting of no pardon, to resist God's will.—They will on every occasion, call to their minds the opposition they experience from the Europeans, the vile manner in which they are treated by them, and the contempt to which they are exposed. They will also remind the Indians circumstantially, of the cruelties of the Spaniards in conquest, and of their infamous treatment of their legitimate sovereigns, in dethroning them, in taking away their lives, or enslaving them. They will describe the acts of injustice which they daily experience when applying for places, which are bestowed by the viceroys and governors on worthless persons, to the exclusion of the meritorious. They will direct the people's attention to the superior talents of the many neglected Creoles and people of merit contrasted with the European public officers and ecclesiastics, which will make apparent the hardships they suffer, and will enable them to draw a parallel between the talents and merits of the Creoles and those of the European officers. They will represent to them the difference between the United States and Spanish America; the comforts which those Americans enjoy, and their advancement in commerce, agriculture and navigation; and the pleasure of being free from the European yoke, and being left solely to their own patriotic and elective government. They will assure them, that America once disengaged from Spain, will become the Legistrix of Europe. All agents, both principal and subordinate, are to specify the names of those who declare themselves friends and votaries of liberty; and the subaltern agents are to transmit the list to the principals, who will make their reports to my envoys in the United States, for my information, and that they may duly reward every individual. My agents will refrain from declaiming against the iniquity of the church, and, in their conversations, rather insist upon the necessity of that holy tribunal, and on the usefulness of the clergy. Upon the insurrectional standards or banners is to be inscribed, the motto, "Long live the Catholic, Apostolic, and Roman religion, and perish the bad government." They will besides, make the Indians observe how happy they will be when they become once more masters of their country, and free from the tyrannical tribute which they pay to a foreign monarch; and, lastly, they will tell the people that their said monarch does not so much as exist in his own government, but is in the power of the restorer of liberty, and the universal legislator, Napoleon.—In short, these agents must, by all possible means, endeavour to show the people the utility which will arise to them from the government in question. The revolution having been thus prepared, and all the principal members who are to take a share in it, every city and province, having been gained over, it will be for the chief, as well as the subordinate agents, to accelerate the insurrection, in order that the revolt may take place at the different points agreed upon, on the same day, and at the same hour; this being a material point which will greatly facilitate the enterprise. The principal agents in every province of their department, and the subalterns in the posts assigned them will win over the domestic, of governors, intendents, and other persons in power, and by means of them will poison those of this class whom they consider as hostile to the undertaking, an operation to precede the revolution, in order to remove all the obstacles. The first thing to be considered will be, how to stop the remittances of treasure to the peninsula, which may easily be effected by having good agents at Vera Cruz, where all the vessels arriving from Europe will be received, and their officers and crews immediately confined in the fortresses, until every thing shall have succeeded, and the revolution be in forwardness. The agents are further directed to instruct their sub agents to transmit to them frequent accounts of the progress of the revolution; and the chief agents will communicate with my envoys in the United States by the channels which shall be pointed out to them. For this purpose it will be proper to keep prepared land-conveyances to those points of the coast which may be deemed suitable, and where there are always to be ready vessels for any emergency.

The ship Euphrates, Capt. De Cost, arrived at this port on Saturday evening, in 44 days from Liverpool. From our correspondents we have received London papers of the evening of the 8th of June, Liverpool of the 10th, and Lloyd's list to the 6th. American Stocks at London, June 6. Three per cents. 70 to 71; six per cents. new loan, 102 to 102 1/2; seven per cents. 102 to 102 1/2.

BONAPARTE.

Late accounts had been received in England from St. Helena. Bonaparte is stated to continue sulky, and will not allow himself to be seen by any English visitors.—He rises, at this season of the year, about 8 o'clock in the morning, and after walking in his garden for an hour, retires to his house, where he remains the whole of the day.

Flour at Liverpool was dull at 48s.

Liverpool Corn Exchange, June 9.—Our supply this week was not large; the market being well attended by purchasers from the interior, caused an advance of 9d to 1s per bushel, on fine foreign wheat. Barley and oats were likewise in request, as well as beans and American flour; the latter is per quarter and 5s per barrel dearer.

The Dublin Corn Market on the 5th was declining.

We have been favored with the following state of the markets:—

Liverpool, 26th June, 1818.

To day several public sales of flour have been brought forward, and the following parcels went off steadily though without briskness.

850 bbls. Philad. 48 a 48s 6d. per bbl.
450 do Baltimore, 46s. 9d. a 48s.
450 do Virginia, 47 a 47s 6d.
Am. wheat 12 a 13s. 6d. per 70 lbs.

The very hot weather still continues.

Cotton is not lively, but may be considered steady at 20 1/2 a 21d. for uplands; 21 1/2 a 23 1/2 for New-Orleans, and 3s. 1d. a 3s. 10d. for Sea-Islands. Ashes and naval stores are dull; and a general election is already greatly interfering with business.

June 10.—No alteration in this market; but our London advices mention an advance in wheat of 2 a 3s. per quarter.

RATHBONE, HODGSON & CO.

ANOTHER LETTER.

"Liverpool, June 10.

"The flour market was dull yesterday, it is declining. N. York 47s. Philadelphia 48s.; wheat in fair demand, and the London market by this day's advices at 3 to 4s advance, which, should the imports be light for a short time, will probably have some influence on flour."

"We have no alteration to note in other produce; the markets are, however, generally dull."

On her way from this port to St. Mary's, the 20th inst. off Ragged Point, her foremast was struck with lightning and shattered to pieces. At the time this happened, there was a severe squall coming on, and three of the crew who were reefing the foremast, were knocked down, apparently dead for a few minutes, but shortly after recovered. The man at the helm felt the shock very forcibly, but did not fall. The lightning passed from the foremast through the deck into the hold, making an orifice about an inch in diameter, as though it had been bored with an augur—from thence it took a direction towards the larboard bow, where it started a butt, and passed off to the water, without further injury.

Am. wheat 12 a 13s. 6d. per 70 lbs.
The very hot weather still continues. Cotton is not lively, but may be considered steady at 20 1/2d. a 21 1/2d. for uplands; 21 1/2d. a 23 1/2d. for New-Orleans, and 3s. 1d. a 3s. 10d. for Sea-Islands. Ashes and naval stores are dull; and a general election is already greatly interfering with business.

June 10.—No alteration in this market; but our London advices mention an advance in wheat of 2 a 3s. per quarter.

Liverpool, June 10.

"The flour market was dull yesterday, at 1s decline." N. York 47s. Philadelphia 48s.; wheat in fair demand, and the London market by this day's advices at 3 to 4s advance, which, should the imports be light for a short time, will probably have some influence on flour.

ARRIVED.

Schr Barcelona, Niele, of Baltimore, from St. Mary's, Maryland, with a cargo of wood. On her way from this port to St. Mary's, the 20th inst. off Ragged Point, her foremast was struck with lightning and shivered to pieces. At the time this happened, there was a severe gust coming on, and three of the crew who were reefing the foresail, were knocked down, apparently dead for a few minutes, but shortly after recovered. The man at the helm felt the shock very forcibly, but did not fall. The lightning passed from the foremast through the deck into the hold, making an orifice about an inch in diameter, as though it had been bored with an augur—the larboard bow, where it started a butt, and passed off to the water, without further injury.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on Tuesday evening last, between the hours of nine and ten o'clock, a mulatto woman named

MARY, with her two female children, named Malvina and Bussy, sometimes called Mary Ann. Mary is about 40 years of age, five feet five inches high, has a remarkable mole on her chin; she was formerly the property of Mr. P. R. Beverly of Alexandria. The children are both mulattos the first named 12 years of age, and the last 6 years. The mother had on when she went off, a blue chequered domestic frock broad stripe—the children had on blue domestic frocks and check aprons, but as she carried with her a variety of clothing, it is probable she has proceeded towards Philadelphia, and as she is a remarkable artful woman, will attempt to pass as a free woman. A reward of fifty dollars will be paid for apprehending and securing the above described runaways in the District of Columbia and reasonable charges, or the above reward if taken out of the District, and secured so that the owner gets them again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

Masters of vessels are cautioned against harboring or carrying off said runaways, as they will be dealt with according to law.

Plaster Land.

The subscriber offers for sale a FARM of 450 acres, being part of the tract whereon he resides, in Fauquier county, Va. More than one-third of this Farm is in timber, and is land of the richest quality. The cleared land is in good heart, having had the advantage of a clover lay, and no soil being more susceptible of plaster improvement. He would also dispose of a lot of 50 acres, the whole of which is in timber, and is first-rate tobacco and meadow land. On this lot has been erected well built saw mill, contiguous to which at the confluence of Broad and Mill runs is a most valuable site for a merchant mill. No property is better worth the attention of a person wishing to engage in such business. On the first mentioned farm are a commodious overseer's house, a new barn, stables, corn houses and negro quarters, and about 30 acres of timothy meadow. THOMAS TURNER, Near Hay Market Post Office. June 26

600 acres of Land for sale.

THIS Tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garrett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable proportion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equidistant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.

Any one wishing to purchase may apply to ROGER JONES. Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Turberville's tract—within 6 miles of Georgetown, 3 from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wiley's, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is so recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition. For terms, apply to PHILIP C. JONES, esq. in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES. March 30

Valuable Land for Sale.

I WILL sell the farm on which I reside, known by the name of Indian Town, and containing about one thousand acres. It is situated in Charles Co. Md. on Nanjemoy Creek near its mouth, about seven miles from Port Tobacco, and forty from Washington City. Few farms combine greater advantages than this; added to a fertility of soil equal to any in the country, it binds on the creek nearly two miles, which affords great facility in getting its productions to market, and precludes the necessity of much fencing; the creek affords in their seasons, fish and wild fowl in abundance. The soil is peculiarly adapted to the growth of Tobacco, Wheat and Indian Corn, and the plaster has been found from experience to act on it admirably. There are now about 100 acres in clover, some of which is well set. The improvements are a new two story dwelling house 16 by 40 feet, kitchen, barn, stables, carriage house, with every other necessary out house, the whole in good repair. There is also a wind-mill in good order, the toll of which affords meal enough for the support of the farm. Also, one other tract containing 115 acres in the forest, about three miles distant, entirely in the wood. There is a well of excellent water in the yard, and several springs on different parts of the farm. The premises may be viewed, and the terms known by application to the subscriber. Should the above farm be unsold on the 1st of Sept. next, I will lease it for a term of years. THASOPHILUS HARGRAVE.

Sale of Property in Alex'a.

UNDER the authority of a deed of trust from William Wilson to the subscriber, will be sold upon the premises on the fourth day of August next, to commence at the hour of 12 o'clock of that day, the following lots of Ground in the town of Alexandria:

One lot lying on the south side of Queen and west side of Water street, beginning at the intersection of said streets, running southwardly and binding on Water street 55 feet 6 inches, thence westwardly parallel to Queen street 89 feet 10 inches, thence northwardly parallel to Water street 35 feet 6 inches, thence with Queen street to the beginning.

One other lot upon the east of Water street and south of Queen street, beginning upon Water street at its intersection with a 20 feet alley (Mr. Thompson's) and running eastwardly with said alley 100 feet, thence northwardly parallel to Water street 55 feet 6 inches, thence westwardly parallel to Queen street 100 feet to Water street, thence with it to the beginning.

One other lot lying on the south side of Queen and east of Water street, beginning upon Queen street 133 feet 4 inches east of Water street, running eastwardly with Queen street 83 feet 4 inches, thence southwardly parallel to Water street 83 feet 3 inches, thence westwardly parallel to Queen street 33 feet 4 inches, thence northwardly parallel to Water street to the beginning.

And one other lot beginning on said alley 100 feet east of Water street, running eastwardly with said alley 33 feet 4 inches, thence northwardly parallel to Water street 83 feet 3 inches, thence westwardly parallel to said alley 33 feet 4 inches, thence southwardly to the beginning.

Also, one undivided moiety of that lot on the west side of Water street and north side of Queen street, on which is erected a large and well finished brick house, and a vacant lot adjoining to the north, fronting on Water street 30 feet.—The other moiety, belonging to the estate of Dr. James Kennedy, deceased, will be offered for sale and may be purchased at the same time on the same terms.

Conveyances will be made to the purchasers upon granting notes with approved endorsers, payable by equal portions in 6, 9 and 12 months, and upon being further secured by a deed of trust upon the property sold and conveyed.

James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any there be, why a decree should not pass as prayed.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo. THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS. I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12 to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

LEE'S MEDICINE STORE,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Tape or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fecid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a due use of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases, esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,
